

Case Study

Property

Knight Frank

Skillsarena works with many high-profile companies from the property sector.

One of these clients is Knight Frank LLP, a global property consultancy that provides a unique force in property transactional, management and advisory services. Its global network encompasses more than 165 offices in 36 countries across six continents.

Recruitment Officer, Knight Frank:

“We have been working with Skillsarena since March 2008, using products for secretarial skills testing including Word, Excel, speed typing, PowerPoint and data entry.

“The services that Skillsarena provide meet the requirements for our administrative roles superbly. We test candidates against the level they set themselves at and benchmark these against some of our current employees.

“Some of the benefits of using a Skillsarena testing package include its simplicity, the ability to use it remotely and of course its competitive pricing. Knight Frank is extremely happy with the service. Skills testing is a useful tool when setting apart candidates during the recruitment process.”